Graduate Medical Education Management

Designed for the GME enterprise from day one

Unite and streamline management operations across the enterprise. The MedHub platform manages large-scale complexity and variability that other residency management systems were never built to handle.
The Power of United

In today’s medical education environment, complexity is inevitable. But it shouldn’t be a barrier to performance.

Designed from the start as an enterprise-wide model, MedHub manages large-scale complexity and variability other systems were never built to handle. Its tightly integrated, intuitive workflow minimizes error and redundancy while enhancing collaboration, enabling even the largest, most complex institutions to meet their goals with greater agility and speed.

Thanks to its intuitive workflow, MedHub makes business operations simpler and more efficient, so the whole team can focus on what’s important: educating and preparing tomorrow’s physicians. The system lets you integrate workflow and processes across all residency programs on an open, flexible platform, increasing efficiencies around management of faculty, residents and clinical sites, as well as affiliation and accreditation.

The MedHub system gives you the visibility, flexibility and control to direct operations with new levels of collaboration and efficiency.

Align leadership across the organization
MedHub’s top-down approach lets you see what is and isn’t working across programs, and revise strategies accordingly.

Unify programs, systems and stakeholders
MedHub unites and streamlines management operations enterprise-wide, aligning residents, faculty and programs to achieve common goals.

Improve learning outcomes
MedHub supports excellence by tracking competencies, enhancing assessment practices, and facilitating better feedback.

Ensure institutional oversight
MedHub’s model provides a single source of truth enterprise wide, improving accuracy and visibility, and reducing institutional risk.
